Climate Litigation: an overview

Climate litigation is gaining ground in filling gaps left by the international climate change regime.

This seminar aims to (i) provide an overview of the existing climate cases, (ii) examine their outcomes and impact; (iii) discuss potential future research e.g., involving climate science, corporate accountability, access to justice and human rights.

Chair and introductory remarks: Gianluigi Palombella

Speaker: Riccardo Luporini

Status, impact and prospects of climate change litigation
